INTRODUCTION

Created by Culturespaces, Fabrique des Lumières is a digital art centre located in Zuiveringshal of Amsterdam's Westergasfabriek. Using cutting-edge technology with light projections and music, Fabrique des Lumières features immersive exhibitions of classical, modern, and contemporary artists. Our visitors can enjoy a high-quality visual and audio art experience that is perfectly adapted to the 19th century historic building we are located in. The immersive exhibitions are projected onto all surfaces of the walls and floors of Fabrique des Lumières making it a full sensory encounter.

With our innovative and highly advanced technical equipment, Fabrique des Lumières provides the perfect opportunity for tailor made events with your presentation, logo or product(s) in an impressive setting and adapted to your taste and desired atmosphere. Fabrique des Lumières can accommodate up to 1,000 people for meetings, dinners, (fashion) shows, product launches or company presentations. Note: The Hall can be divided into three spaces, so you can host multiple programme components in the same building.

HISTORY OF THE ZUIVERINGSHAL

The Westergasfabriek is just a stone's throw away from Amsterdam's city centre, Central Station, and the A10 ring road making it easily accessible by various means of transport. Built in 1883 by the British Imperial Continental Gas Association to light the city's streets, the unique 4-hectare location used to be the largest coal-fired gasworks in the Netherlands. In the Zuiveringshal, the gas was purified in large boilers with sand and chemicals. After the closing of the factory in the late 1960s, the site was left unused. Since 2003, the industrial monument has been lighting up the city again as a centre for arts, culture and hospitality venues.
